

TITCHMARSH & GOODWIN

GEORGIAN DINING CHAIR

Proudly handmade at our workshops in Suffolk, England

Inspired by the furniture styles fashionable in the early 18th century, this stately and aristocratic Georgian dining chair gives you the opportunity to bring a taste of the great house banqueting hall into your home.

Handcrafted in the UK by our talented team of expert furniture makers, these chairs demonstrate all the attention to detail and love of their craft our specialists possess. Notice how the imposing, sturdy feel afforded by the fully upholstered solid back is offset and balanced by the beautifully carved arms and shoulders, as well as by the immaculately turned and delicate-looking front legs.

Made out of mahogany, the tropical hardwood which dominated 18th century furniture making in the UK as the import trade boomed, we offer these regal Georgian dining chairs in two colours - standard and mellow mahogany. If you have a particular preference for the design of the upholstery, talk to us - we will aim to customise the design to suit your personal tastes in any way we can.

Finishes

A finish is a very personal choice, one of our experienced sales team will discuss and advise on the best finish for your piece of furniture.
